

What happens after a missed call?

SMIRK turns a caller's rough voicemail moment into a clear follow-up record an owner can act on.

1

Caller reaches the dedicated SMIRK recovery number.

Prove the capture and callback loop before directing real missed calls to it.

2

SMIRK captures the job context.

Issue, urgency, service area, caller details, and requested callback window.

3

The owner/operator gets a callback-ready summary.

The alert is written for action, not for decoration.

4

A task lands in the dashboard.

Open recovery work stays visible until somebody handles it.

5

The proof view shows what happened.

Call status, summary, task state, and the next action are visible without exposing private details in marketing assets.

GUARDRAILS

No cold SMS. No automated phone spam. No uncapped testing. No unsupported money claims.

BEST FIT

Owner-operated home-service businesses that care about urgent callback details after-hours or during busy jobs.
