MISSED-CALL RECOVERY

RENO TRADES LAUNCH

FOR PLUMBERS, HVAC, ELECTRICIANS, AND BUSY TRADES

THE URGENT PHONE CALL YOU MIGHT HAVE MISSED.

When a homeowner has water on the floor, no heat, or a job that cannot wait, they usually call until somebody answers. If you are under a sink, driving, or already on a job, the next shop on Google may get that call.

Introducing SMIRK: a 24/7 frontline call-recovery layer for independent trade businesses in Reno.

THE EXPENSIVE PROBLEM

Your phone is interrupting the highest-value person in the business.

Sales calls, robocalls, simple questions, after-hours callbacks, and real emergency jobs all hit the same cell phone.

THE NO-BARRIER FIX

SMIRK fits into your existing phone workflow.

Use it as the front line or as missed-call backup. Calls are captured, summarized, and routed without making your crew learn new software.

FILTERS THE NOISE Routine callers, sales pitches, robocalls, and simple questions can be handled without interrupting the truck.

FINDS THE JOB SMIRK asks for the issue, urgency, service area, and callback window so the owner gets a useful summary instead of a vague voicemail.

TRANSFERS WHEN IT MATTERS In frontline mode, urgent calls can be routed toward your cell with an owner-confirmation step before connecting.

LOOKS PROFESSIONAL Small shops get a calm, consistent call experience even when the owner is in a crawlspace, in traffic, or standing next to a running truck.

MINIMAL SETUP Forward calls to SMIRK as your main front line or as backup voicemail. Your staff keeps working the way they already work.

TRY THE DEMO LINE

Call as a stressed homeowner. Leave the job details. Review the summary and callback workflow.

Forwarding and live-transfer behavior depends on phone-carrier setup and approved account configuration. This flyer avoids guaranteed revenue claims; the point is to recover and organize urgent caller details.

DUAL MODE SETUP

STOP USING FIELD HOURS AS A RECEPTIONIST.

You do not need more interruptions. You need a front line that captures the job and only pulls you in when it matters.
